

Insight Meditation

Insight Meditation (vipassana) is a simple and direct practice: the moment to moment investigation of the mind/body process through calm, focused awareness which allows us to experience sensations, emotions, thoughts and consciousness with greater clarity and balance. This frees our mind from conditioned patterns of self-centeredness, negativity and confusion, and opens our heart to deeper wisdom and compassion. This process of opening compassionately to ourselves moves from the sitting period to the whole of our lives. Each moment is practice for our growth toward wholeness and harmony. The meditations derive from Buddhist traditions but no special religious beliefs are necessary to their practice.

What Is a Meditation Retreat?

A meditation retreat is a wonderful opportunity to experience our own inner being while sharing in the support of others. Mindfulness throughout the day will be a focus, with alternating periods of sitting and walking practice. The retreat will be held in silence. Small group instruction and private interviews with the meditation teachers will be offered, and evening talks will be given.

This kind of retreat may not be appropriate for all people. If you have concerns about your emotional stability under the pressures of a deeply introspective meditation experience, please discuss your concerns with a Deep Spring teacher prior to registering.

If finances are a concern, please let us know. Scholarships are available. Registration fees cover room and board. Teachings are offered on a dana basis.

The Teachers

Dorothy Ann Coyne has been a student and practitioner of yoga and meditation since 1971. Mother of four and grandmother of five, she is a certified Kripalu Yoga teacher and a senior teacher of meditation for Deep Spring Center. Dottie and her husband Bernie have been offering their home, "Sunnyside," in Brooklyn, Michigan for workshops and retreats since the 1980s

Frank Levey has been practicing Vipassana meditation since the mid 80's, and he connected with Deep Spring Center within a few weeks of arriving in Ann Arbor in 1993. He has been teaching classes and co-leading retreats for the past 8 years. In addition Frank has experience with Taoist and Jewish forms of meditation and spiritual practices and is a certified Transformational Breath facilitator. An avid outdoorsman, he has taught wilderness survival to youth and adults. Frank lives with his wife, Larissa, and their son, Issac, in Ann Arbor

Insight Meditation & Mindfulness

This retreat is suitable for both beginning and continuing students; instruction will be offered at each level. There will be opportunity to meet one-on-one with the teachers.

LOCATION AND SCHEDULE

The retreat will be held at the Rudolf Steiner House at 1923 Geddes Avenue in Ann Arbor. The retreat begins on Friday evening, March 16, with dinner and ends Sunday, March 18 after lunch. All meals are vegetarian.

COST AND REGISTRATION

$190 for residential private room, $165 for residential shared room (bed linens and towels provided) and $140 for commuters. $20 discount if registration is paid in full by February 17. Full payment is due March 3.

We encourage meditators to commit to the residential retreat experience, which provides conditions for easing into a more sustained silence and stillness of body-mind-heart and opening to a greater depth of practice. Those commuting should plan to attend all sessions (Friday evening through Sunday).

Your payment/deposit is refundable minus a $25 cancellation-processing fee until Feb. 17; after that it is refundable only if someone is on the waiting list to take your place. Scholarships are available; inquire if you need financial assistance.

Please fill out the registration form and mail with your payment. If you have special needs, e.g. dietary/physical, let us know. Registrants will receive confirmation and other information approximately 10 days before the retreat.
